“An artist’s duty, as far as I’m concerned, is to reflect the times.”

Nina Simone

In our work and in our living, we must recognize that difference is a reason for celebration and growth, rather than a reason for destruction.

Audre Lorde

“Every artist, every scientist, every writer must decide now where he stands. The artist must take sides. He must elect to fight for freedom or for slavery. I have made my choice. I had no alternative.”

Paul Robeson

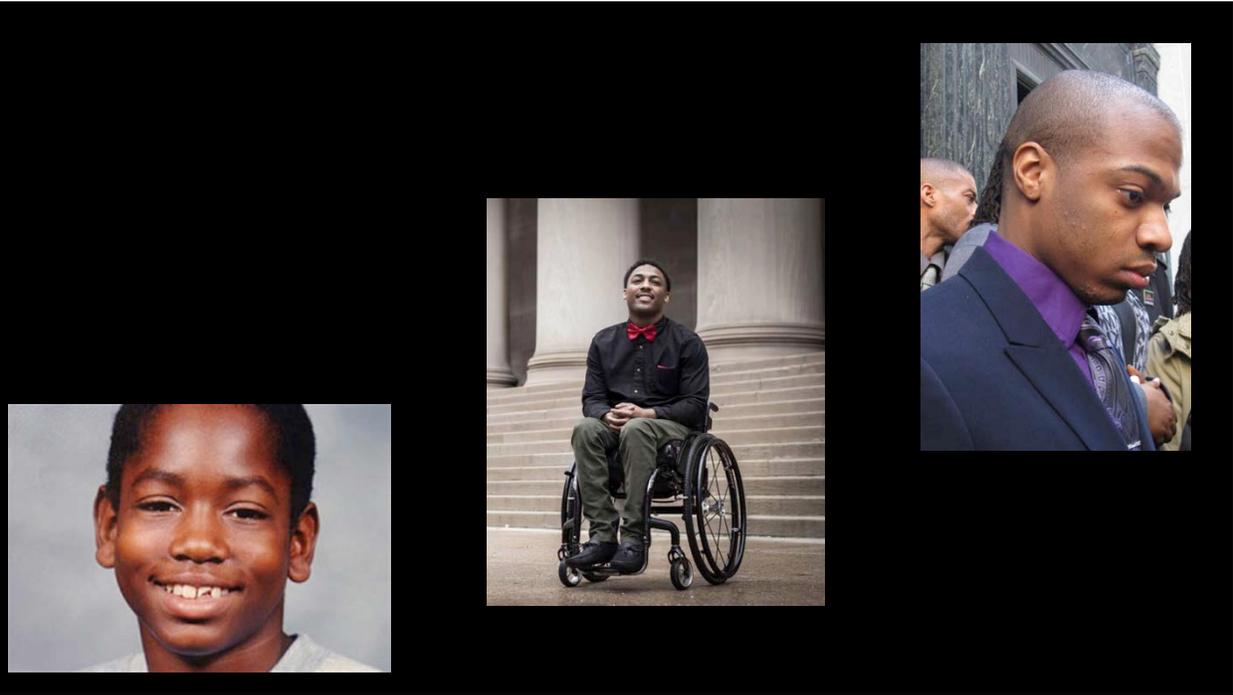

“My social and political interests are part of my career. I cannot separate them.”

Harry Belafonte

“We must be concerned not merely about who murdered them, but about the system, the way of life, the philosophy which produced the murderers.”

Martin Luther King Jr.
Eulogy for the Martyred Children

There are those who say that poets should use her and his art to change the world. I'd agree with that, but I think everybody should do that. I think the chef and the baker and the candlestick maker - I think everybody should be hoping to make it a better world.

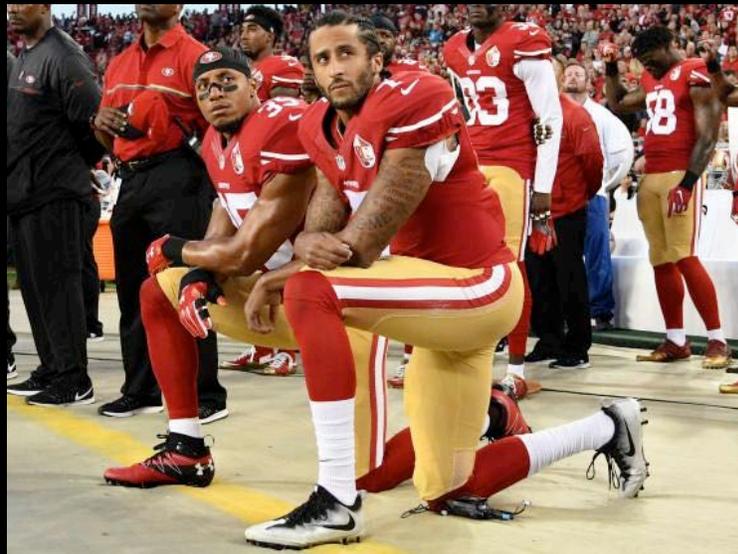

Maya Angelou

I hated the brutality, the sadism, and the insanity of Nazism. I just couldn't stand by and see people destroyed. I did what I could, what I had to do, what my conscience told me I must do. That's all there is to it. Really, nothing more.

— Oskar Schindler —
