The Heinz Endowments was formed from the Howard Heinz Endowment, established in 1941, and the Vira I. Heinz Endowment, established in 1986. It is the product of a deep family commitment to community and the common good that began with H.J. Heinz, and that continues to this day.

The Endowments is based in Pittsburgh, where we use our region as a laboratory for the development of solutions to challenges that are national in scope. Although the majority of our giving is concentrated within southwestern Pennsylvania, we work wherever necessary, including statewide and nationally, to fulfill our mission.

That mission is to help our region thrive as a whole community — economically, ecologically, educationally and culturally — while advancing the state of knowledge and practice in the fields in which we work. Our fields of emphasis include philanthropy in general and the disciplines represented by our five grant-making programs: Arts & Culture; Children, Youth & Families; Education; Environment; and Innovation Economy.

In life, Howard Heinz and Vira I. Heinz set high expectations for their philanthropy. Today, the Endowments is committed to doing the same. Our charge is to be diligent, thoughtful and creative in continually working to set new standards of philanthropic excellence. Recognizing that none of our work would be possible without a sound financial base, we also are committed to preserving and enhancing the Endowments' assets through prudent investment management.

h magazine is a publication of The Heinz Endowments. At the Endowments, we are committed to promoting learning in philanthropy and in the specific fields represented by our grant-making programs. As an expression of that commitment, this publication is intended to share information about significant lessons and insights we are deriving from our work.

About the cover The upbeat attitude that funders are encouraging in Hazelwood through neighborhood investment is reflected in the confident moves of Jamal Williams and LeBraya Latimer. Both are dancers with K.R.U.N.K. Movement, a Hazelwood-based program that teaches performance and business skills to youth. K.R.U.N.K. was part of a community celebration for the opening of the Hazelwood section of the Heritage Bike Trail earlier this year. Photo by Martha Rial

4 Open House

Hosanna House in Wilkinsburg is more than a community center or social services hub. It's a caring place that is attracting clients by the hundreds and respect from local foundations.

12 Act II: After the Mill

A Hazelwood steel mill has been closed for nearly two decades, but plans are under way to pump new life into the site and new hope into the neighborhood.

24 Journalism 2.0

Although journalism has been dramatically transformed by online media, Pittsburgh foundations are doing what they can to ensure that in-depth, local news coverage doesn't disappear.
